<Berkeley & Morgan Counties, WV & Washington County, MD December 6, 2022> Mark Harrell, President and CEO of CNB Bank, announced that the locally owned and operated bank recently received multiple accolades from Forbes Magazine, Independent Community Bankers of America (ICBA), and Tri-States Best.

Forbes Magazine named CNB Bank as Best in Banking for 2022 by stating, “Whether establishing personal, commercial, wealth management, or investment priorities, CNB Bank is the ultimate resource, serving as market experts in the segments in which they work.”

CNB Bank was also recognized as the Best Bank to Work For by ICBA. The publication for ICBA noted that CNB Bank “received accolades for empowering staff to make decisions that lead to more specific, personalized offerings for customers.” CNB credits much of their success to their culture of education, which relies on its core pillars of intelligence, experience, and customized solutions, for empowering their associates to do what is best for the customer.

Tri-States Best awarded CNB Bank the title of Best Bank in Berkeley County, Best Bank in Washington County, and Tri-States Best Mortgage Lending Company. “From first-time homebuyers to seasoned business operators, the CNB Bank team looks at a customer’s goals from every angle, often presenting never-considered financial solutions that work in the customer’s favor” (Forbes). CNB’s commitment to helping customers thrive is evident in their dedication to delivering customized solutions for each unique situation.

Harrell remarked, “We are very honored to receive these awards. At CNB, we firmly believe that taking great care of our associates will lead them to also take great care of our customers. Additionally, we prioritize providing solutions rather than just selling products which has helped us stay true to our mission of helping customers plan for their financial future. These awards are a true testament to our employees who reflect our core values every day.”
